Bisurated Magnesia tablets are absolutely harmless, and enable the dyspeptic to enjoy a good old-fashioned meal without fear of pain or distress to follow. FORECAST OF BHADAI CROP.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

CALCUTTA Oct 27.

The preliminary forecast of the Bhadai crop of Bihar and Orissa, 1920 states that the to al area sown this year is reported to be 3265900 of Bihar and Orissa, 1920 states that the total acres as against 8244700 acres in the corresponding forecast of last year. The normal area under Bhadai crops is assessed at 8573900 acres. According to the estimate of district officers the out turn of the Bhadai crops for the province comes to 98 per cent of the normal. But the low estimates from North Bihar do not correspond with the generally favourable reports as to weather conditions in that area now with the promising appearance of the corps at the beginning of August and as approximately half the total area and a much larger portion of the total yield is grown there, it is probably safe to add another 10 per cent to the total estimate bringing it up to 108 per cent of the average.

AGRICULTURAL OUTLOOK.

There was slight rain during the week ending 27th instant in parts of the Deccan, Karnatak and Konkan. More rain is needed for rabi crops. Standing crops are withering in parts of Sind, Gujarat, Khandesh, Nasik and Ahmednagar; elsewhere they are generally in good condition. Harvesting of kharif crops and sowing of rabi are in progress. Cotton picking continues. The supply of fodder was sufficient except in parts of Karachi, Thar Parkar, Broach, Nasik and Ahmednagar. The supply of water for drinking was sufficient, but that for irrigation was insufficient in Sind and parts of Satara and Dharwar. Agricultural stock was generally in good condition. Prices of food-grains were almost stationary. The quantities purchasable per rupee were as follows:—

Sind 55 to 71 percentage below normal, Gujarat 36 to 61 percentage below normal, Konkan 42 to 57 percentage below normal, Deccan 52 to 74 percentage below normal, Karnatak 48 to 67 per centage below normal.

REFUSAL TO PAY TRAM FARE.

At the Esplanade Police Court, Mr. Frank Oliveira disposed of a case in which Hiralal Thackurdas Parekh, stood charged with assault and refusal, to pay legal tramway fare.

The fact of the case are that many tram way passengers intending to go to Girgaum, board the car for Opera House before reaches Flora Fountain and thus passengers waiting at the Fountain are put to inconvenience. To avoid such inconveniences the Company has made it a rule to charge an extra fare of one anna from those passengers who board the cars before reaching Flora Fountain. On September, 20th about 7-15 p.m, a car was coming from the Opera House and when it approached the Chartered Bank Buildings, the accused and many others got into it. Thereupon Gopal Baburao, Traffic Controller, stoped the car and asked the conductor to collect fares and issue tickets for Flora Fountain to all those who boarded the car there.

CONDUCTOR ASSAULTED.

The accused refused to pay and asked others to do the same. An altercation ensued and therefore the car was being taken towards Museum instead of reverting towards Opera House, and when it came opposite the University Gardens all passengers left the car. The accused also was about leave the car when Goaal Baburao again went up to him and asked for the fare. But the accused instead of paying the fare dealt him a kick and jumped out of the car.

On the case being called the accused expressed regret for the incident and paid Rs. 5 in charity. The case was therefore marked compounded.

A BRUTAL SUB-TENANT,

At the Esplanade Police Court, Mr. Frank Oliveira disposed of a case in which one Shivadatta Meller, a servant boy obtained summons against Ramdas Punjabi, a clerk at Messrs. Bussey and Company

Mr. K. F. Nariman, pleader, appeared for the complainant.

The complainant stated that he was in the service of one Mr. Ramchandra Sinha and was residing with him a Hira Building. The accused was a sub-tenant of his master an residing at the same place. On the 9th September last about 9 p.m. he was playing on a small musical instrument but the accused did not like it and so he had to stop. On the next morning when he was again playing on the same instrument, the accused's wife objected and this time too he stopped it. But the accused was not satisfied with only stopping the complainant from playing on the instrument—he began abusing him (complainant), and then caught hold of him and dealt him three slaps on his left ear, which caused the ear to bleed profusely. He was then unable to hear anything with that ear. The accused then left him and made a rush to assault the ladies of his master's family when his master was absent.

The accused pleaded not guilty. He was however convicted on the evidence and sentenced to pay a fine of Rs. 20.

NON-COOPERATION ACTIVITIES

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.)

BROACH, Oct. 24.

Mr. D. B. Kalelkar of Mr. Gandhi's Ashram performed the opening ceremony of a National Primary School before a crowded meeting of the citizens of Broach on Saturday last. An influentented committee was formed to organise national educat on in the city.

A MODERATE FIASCO.

It was announced during the last week that Mr. Anklesharia, one of the two candidates for the Provincial Legislative Council, would deliver a lecture on Co-operation at the Bharucha Hall on Sunday last at 4-30 p.m when leaders of Non-Co-operation party would also be invited to join the discussion. The promoters of the meeting however appeared to have changed their mind for the invitation cards distributed broadcast in the streets asked only the co-operators to attend the meeting. The local Committee thereupon organised a big demonstration to take at the Fata Talao at 6 p.m. Messrs. Vallanbhai J. Patel, B. P. Thakore and K. N. Desai, Dr. Kanuga and others arrived at Broach from Ahmedabad at about 1 p.m. when they were served with an order not to hold a meeting within the immediate vicinity of the Bharucha Hall. But this did not prevent the members of the deputation and the general public from crowding the Bharucha Hall when the Moderates found themselves in a hopeless minority. The unexpected happened and Mr. Vallanbhai Patel was voted to the chair without any opposition. Mr. Patel then asked Mr. Anklesvaria to deliver his speech on Co-operation which he refused to do. The Moderates thus failed in their attempt to misrepresent public opinion. A most successful meeting was thereafter held at the Fata Talao.

AT THE EXCELSIOR THEATRE

THE LION AND THE MOUSE.

This is a story which reveals the rottenness of public life in general, and of that of the United States in particular. Judge Rossmore is the Victim and Mr. John Burkett Ryder is the villain. And how does the innocent victim escape, since the world insists on justice being done to the innocent at least on the stage and in the next world "Cherchez la femme." It is Shirley; the daughter of Judge Rossmore, who saves her father's honour. She makes Jefferson Ryder, the son of John Burkett Ryder and her lover, steal certain letters from his father's table drawers. These letters exculpate her father.

The most outstanding of the dramatis personae were Miss Warda Howard as Shirley Rossmore and Mr. Leo Kennedy as John Burkett Ryder. The first represented the Latin temperament, whilst the second represented the Anglo-Saxon temperament.

Shirley was gesticulating, shrieking, moaning, praying and laughing—hysterically. She was life. She was vitality itself. John Ryder on the other hand, was stately, dignified and self-possessed. Mr. Kennedy was very good indeed in this part. He never overacted nor made a fool of himself. Mr. Wykeham as Hon. Fitzroy Bagley also deserves honourable mention. He was very entertaining. His facial expression, way of speaking, way of moving caused endless mirth Some other members of the Company, who possess ability as comedians, got no chance to show it in this play.

ROYAL OPERA HOUSE.

The story of a man saved from himself is the story of "Melting Millions."

Just because Jack Balentine had money he thought he had to spend it. The mere fact that his father had left him about a million dollars was an incentive enough to his spend thrift powers.

In leaving the money Jack's father had also left something else. Vere Morton a widow, to whom old Balentine had given minute instructions. She was to consider herself officially engaged to Jack; and she was to marry him and his money at such time as she thought him worthy.

Vera liked Jack, but she liked him more as a son than as a husband. She could have mothered him without a fortune; She decided to save Jack from certain ruin.

In league with Casey, Vera contrived to abstract Jack's funds from the bank. He had recently thrown a hundred thousand away. He had invested on a toy submarine which did nothing but whirl about like a toy and never thought of getting to England in eight hours as its inventor had claimed it would.

When Vera and Cassey got Jack's six hundred thousand dollars from the bank, where he had it stored they wrote a letter to all his friends saying he had gone to Europe. Then they put his money away until such time as Vera deemed he would be worthy to get it back.

Meanwhile Jack returned to town after a long and interesting stay at the country house of old Billion. But friends in the city spurned him. The real Jack Buentine had gone to Europe they said, and this one was only a rank imposter.

Jack's nature got the best of him. He made straight for Vera's house. She received him with open arms.

Jane Billion had other notions in her head. She wanted to marry Jack just as badly as he wanted to marry her; but insane engagement of Vera and Jack interfered.

That was why both of them were very happy when they learned that old Pete Billion had taken it into his head to go married again; and he had not only decided to do so; he had done so and Vera was the lucky lady.

Then Jack acknowledged that he was completely famed. Now when Vera saw him straight and hardworking she gave him his money and Jane became Mrs. Balentine.

RAJPUTANA CRICKET XI

CONCLUSION OF BOMBAY TOUR.

DEFEAT BY ISLAM GYMKHANA.

Rajputana concluded their Bombay tour yesterday, when their contest with the Islam Gymkhana resulted in a severe defeat for them. In the course of their visit to this city, they played four matches, in two of which they lost to the Grant Medical College and the Islam Gymkhana respectively, and in the other two, which reached no definite conclusion, their opponents, the Hindu Gymkhana and the "Times of India" Cricket Club, could claim advantage. On the results of the games the tour has proved a disappointing one for them, but they are leaving behind them the impression of true sportsmen, who will be welcome in Bombay whenever they choose to pay a visit to our city on a similar errand. It was unfortunate that some of their leading men could not make the trip which greatly handicapped them in the fight with the four clubs they played here. They have among them some fine batsmen in Azim Khan, Marke and Ram Sahai who with more experience of first-class cricket should make quite good batsmen, and on the whole they proved a fairly good batting side. But they were extremely weak in attack and nearly everybody that played against them found it an easy thing to make runs. Azim Khan was the only bowler on their side who could make an impression on the Bombay players' defence. But their weakest point was their poor field. Their ground work was not altogether bad but they dropped quite a number of catches which imposed an undue strain on their bowlers. It is to be hoped they would be able to muster their full strength when they next visit our city and as stated above the local clubs are sure to extend a hearty welcome to such true sportsmen as the Rajputana men have proved themselves.

ISLAM GYMKHANA WIN.

Their two day fixture with the Islam Gymkhana resulted yesterday in a victory for the latter by the substantial margin of over a hundred runs. Overnight the Gymkhana had made 169 runs to which Rajputana had replied with 55 for 5 wickets when stumps were drawn for the day. Resuming their innings yesterday the visitors carried their overnight total to 112. The Gymkhana then entering upon their second venture put up a big total of 189 and next disposed of their opponents for a paltry 66, thus defeating them by 111 runs. The principal features of yesterday's game were the fine innings of Azim Khan of the visiting eleven and Mahomood and Yusuf Beg of the Gymkhana side. Azim Khan's was an especially praiseworthy effort, representing as it did half his side's total in the first innings. His 53 included five 4's and one 5. Yusuf Beg played beautiful cricket, his chief hits being five 4's, while Mahamood showed some exhilarating cricket, hitting all round the wicket and reaching the boundary no less than seven times and twice making overbound strokes. In their second innings the visitors gave an extremely poor exhibition of batting, the whole side being sent back for a poor 66, Aizazuddin contributed a well-played innings of 30, but the rest could only make 33 between them. This result was chiefly due to Kahn and Mahamood, who secured the fine analysis of 4 wickets for 10 and 36 runs respectively. The scores:—

THE BOMBAY CHRONICLE.
Friday, October 29, 1920.

STORES FOR PUBLIC SERVICE.

The Government of India annually buy material for their various departments amounting on an average to rupees seven crores; and, as their example is invariably copied by the other large semi-public corporations in the country,—the Railways, the Port Trusts, the Municipalities,—the annual purchase on public or semi-public account may be estimated at not less than ten crores. Under normal peace conditions the bulk of these purchases, —90 per cent.—used to be imported from the United Kingdom. The war has, it is said, changed the ratio till the imported stores aggregate only half the total requirements, not, be it noted, because the Government of India have recognised and admitted the wastefulness and impolicy of such outside dependence, but because English manufacturers had found for once a more profitable market than the Government of India, or because their entire output was requisitioned by the British Government, or if any surplus was left, there was not shipping enough to transport the purchases to this country. In any case those who, before the war, had been urging the necessity of exploiting the immense, though untried and in many cases unknown, resources of India, may well feel that the war has appeared as a blessing in disguise and proved their contentions by practical demonstration, which no amount of expostulation on their part could have succeeded in achieving as far as the heads of our Government were concerned. But their feeling of satisfaction will not be unmingled with regret that the resources of the country were neglected during the years before the war, and that the country was drained proportionately. Those, who have any experience of working out the manufacturers' costs, those who have had any dealings in the general import-export business, will recognise that, in an annual average purchase of rupees five crores from 1859 to the present day, we have got perhaps the real material of about 100 crores in value, without making any deduction for perishable stores wasted in military operations; and that the remaining 200 crores are represented by the manufacturers' and the middle men's profits and commissions, which are a dead loss to this country. But perhaps the Stores Committee is right in indulging in no vain regrets for a past that is beyond repair. We have had to, and we have been made to, pay the price of our connection with the British in many ways and this not the least of them, over which it boots not to waste time or thought in regrets or recriminations. If the recommendations of the report of the Committee published recently are accepted and carried out in all their essential particulars, reasonable hopes will doubtless be raised of a rapid industrial revival in this country, or at least of active efforts to achieve that goal.

Until the hand of our Bureaucracy was unexpectedly forced by the war, the idea of Indi being ever able to meet from her own resources even the needs of the public service of the country,—which only in this benighted land were placed deliberately at the mercy of an outside agency,—was poohpoohed. In the eighties of the last century, it is true, an attempt was made to modify the purchase rules so as to permit of inquiries being made in this country, as also of some slight purchases being made here of articles at lower prices. But the reason for this tardy concession was the rapid drop in exchange which had alarmed our financiers, and which could obviously have been remedied by retrenching in our purchases outside India. But even this modest scheme was practically a dead letter by the time that the exchange ghost had been set at rest, under the high-sounding pretext of economy and efficiency. It is a fact,—and let those, who can, challenge it,— that between 1890 and 1914 the bulk of the articles imported from England for the public service of this country could have been purchased more cheaply from Germany, without the slightest sacrifice of efficiency, if the Government of India had honestly adhered to the logical doctrine of economy and efficiency before everything else. But it avails not to discuss here whether the Government of India, in immolating the ultimate intersts of India at the shrine of economy and efficiency, really achieved their ideal. Even assuming that our purchase from the United Kingdom involved no monetary loss in comparison to the world prices, that in all these purchases of several million sterling a year there was no room for jobbery, for back-stairs influence, for illicit gain; that the English manufacturers were willing to admit the benefit of our custom and testify their gratitude by affording opportunities to our young men to acquire their knowledge and skill,—even assuming all these absurdities it may yet be doubted if the Government of India have been wise in their policy of a tacit boycott of the Indian market and in their unbending non-co-operation with the Indian industrialist. The Stores Committee, as we have said, does not indulge in vain regrets; but we cannot feel quite satisfied that the evil it has pointed out will not recur unless we obtain the strongest possible guarantees against the appointment of men—unacquainted with the Indian market and unsympathetic towards India's industrial ambitions—to posts where, in the natural course of things, they woulld be entrusted with the task of supplying the public departments with the material they require. There is a greater economy than that measured by relative prices; a greater efficiency than that measured by the extent of durability or the degree of serviceability of the article purchased. The members of the Committee might have feared that their reputation as hardheaded business men would have suffered had they not marred the beautiful simplicity of their conclusions by adding all the clogs and hitches,—the reservations and modifications,—which are likely to make an unsophisticated reader lose sight of the main principle involved. But in spite of their reservations, the country would be eventually the gainer if the principle be laid down: that all stores required for the public service in this country shall be bought in this country, and shall be, wherever possible, of indigenous origin. The Committee has suggested, in order to carry out its mild recommendations, the creation of an Indian Stores Department at a cost—as it estimates it—of rupees fourteen lakhs a year. It suggests complete freedom being given to the Government of India to purchase all their stores through this Department, whose agency may also be used by the Provincial Governments though they are not bound to do so. The semi-public corporations are left free to purchase their own stores. What India wants—particularly if our industries are to be encouraged as the reference to the Committee pretends to suggest—is not a very costly Commission Agency—of the type that the Stores Department will unavoidably lapse into. We want an organisation that will create, equip and conduct great establishments which will furnish our public departments with all their material requirements—a department which will discover, co-ordinate, utilise the resources, the energies, the intelligence of this country, and devise means to strengthen the weak points, to infuse new spirit, and to remedy defects. A Stores Department of the type suggested is, indeed, an improvement over the existing stores branch of the India Office. But it will not and cannot solve the radical problem—namely, the creation in India, of a varied multiform industrial organisation, furnished with the most modern equipment, competent to meet the public as well as private demands. The Stores Department will only be a hand—a sort of ministering angel—which will be powerless so long as a local source of all supplies is not in existence.

And here we are face to face with a more fundamental question. So long as the stores needed for the public service are bought in India, and where possible of Indian origin, it is relatively unimportant whether these needs are supplied by private agency or through public enterprise. But if the principles underlying our criticism of the Committee's recommendations are accepted; if we cannot sacrifice political considerations to those of an economic character: if we would prevent jobbery and illicit gain at the same time that we secure economy and efficiency consistent with the political independence of the country, we would have to prefer public enterprise to private agency. We need not enter here into a discussion as to the relative costs of public enterprise and private agency, for that would involve us in questions of public finance. But within the lines of this critique, we may point out that in a number of important industries we must consider the political aspect as even more important than the purely economic aspect: that in many industries we in India are relatively better off, as there is as yet no private agency which can be injured by public competition and can on that ground raise a claim for compensation or special treatment and that for all these reasons it is preferable to have from the very start national enterprise to avoid future troubles. We would only mention, as an example of what we mean, the recent Tata contract. Because large businesses of an immense national importance are in the hands of private individuals, who, in any questionable step they take, can point to the interests of the shareholders as their sole sufficient excuse, however much they may be neglecting the larger interests of the nation, we are powerless to prevent the gravest national injustice, even though it be perpetrated in the open light of day. Apart from all considerations of relative cost, the State is now confronted everywhere in the world with the great question of checking the insatiable greed of the private proprietor, the insane race of trade rivalries, the immense problem of an inequitable, unequal distribution of the national wealth. If we would have no such spectacle, or if we would prevent it rising to proportions which may prove too great for ordinary means of remedying the evils it involves, we should do well to reconsider the whole question of private versus State enterprise, and not be asphixiated by the pronouncement of this Committee of obviously capitalist sympathies in favour of private enterprise. Barring the question of direct State initiative in industry, the other suggestions of the Committee need not occasion any difference of opinion. The revision of our fiscal policy has already been tacitly recognised as a necessary, legitimate means of developing our industries. The only caveat we would enter is against the needs of Imperial preference being made to foist on us an injurious fiscal policy. We would rather have free trade, with all that it implies, than be made to pay indirectly a tribute to British manufacturers. The Railway rates have an important bearing upon the growth of industries, which, no one who reads the reference to the Committee in the spirit in which it was made, could consider as having been outside the scope of its deliberations. The advisability of a fixed conventional rate of exchange is less obvious, and will be considerably discounted if the cardinal principle we have emphasised above,—that all stores should be bought in India, and should be of local origin wherever practicable—is properly carried out.

Notes of the Day.

East Prussia.

According to a Reuter's telegram from London, there is anxiety in Berlin as well as Paris over the movements of troops reported to be going on in East Prussia; but the curious thing is that Berlin, no more than Paris, seems to know the meaning of the said movements. In Berlin they are supposed to herald a new outbreak on the part of the reactionaries, while in Paris, it is suspected that they mean help for the Lithuanians against the Poles. This seems to us the more probable solution of the mystery, though there may be ground for both opinions. The German reactionaries are the militarist party and hot-headed patriots. The prospect of a Polish Empire is a menace to their great idea of German domination over Eastern Europe; and it is only fair to add that the behaviour of the Poles towards the German populations which have come into their power has been such as to incense all patriotic Germans. The Poles, since their liberation by the Allies, have dealt in nothing but attacks upon their neighbours; and their last aggression against Lithuania has drawn upon them the remonstrance of the League of Nations. But so long as France or French public opinion supports their mad imperialism—a greater menace to the right to independence of small nations than either the Austrian or the German Empires ever were—so long will there be agitation in East Prussia, and movements of "white guards" or "red guards", or both together, in sympathy with the Bolsheviks.

A New Department.

The suggestion that there will shortly be a special Government Department like the Foreign Office and the Indian Office, to deal exclusively with Middle Eastern problems, will chill the blood of every Orientalist. If the affairs of Mesopotamia, Kurdistan, Persia, Syria, Arabia, Asia Minor and the Caucasus are now chaotic, owing to, or after the work of men at least acquainted with those countries, what is likely to be their condition when an army of bureaucrats, without acquaintance with them, tries to manage them from an office in London? The present troubles in the East are not of a nature to be pacified by red tape and accurately numbered forms, nor yet by any number of well-paid officials. They can only be reduced by one man, as it seems to us, a great man of a clear, direct intelligence; and that one man, alas! is not forthcoming.

A False Alarm.

The news that the native inhabitants of South Africa are being disturbed by "Bolshevist" propaganda is startling, but we do not believe a word of it; unless the term Bolshevist has another meaning in South Africa. Some people, even in England, call Bolshevist everyone who advocates a radical change in the present order of society for the uplifting of the depressed classes; and a section of the Trades Unionists in South Africa would admit the natives of the country into the ranks of organised Labour on an equal footing with white "comrades." That is quite enough to make the Conservative settlers call them the worst name that they can think of; which happens at the moment to be "Bolshevist." They have, however, no connection whatsoever with Lenin and Trotsky.

A Disqualification to be Removed.

The Government of the Punjab the other day issued a belated communiqué "pardoning" the leaders who were "convicted" by the Martial Law Tribunals during the Punjab nightmare last year. During that period of panicky repression there were some prominent publicists, like Mr. Durgadas B. Advani, in this Presidency, who were equally unjustly "convicted" and soon afterwards released. The Government of Bombay have not yet thought fit to "pardon" these individuals, so as to enable them to exercise their full right of citizenship They must move in the matter without any delay.

A Sholapur Complaint.

A correspondent writes:—

"On the 28th of September, 1920, a poor woman, named Laxmibai, was run over by a motor of the manager of a well-known mill here. The woman died subsequently on the 4th of October as twelve bones of her body were broken. Since 28th of September, the police authorities are trying to investigate the offence and until now nothing has been published or known to the people. Serious attempts are being made to influence the police by the said manager. Will H. E. the Governor of Bombay try to uphold the right and redress the wrong? An ex-labourer of the mill concerned, publicly requested the managers of all the mills at Sholapur, not to molest the labourers who have joined or shall join the Labour Union at Sholapur. For this grave offence, he was more than once threatened with externment by the Deputy Superintendent of Police at Sholapur. Will H. E. the Governor of Bombay kindly look into the matter and see that the man shall not be henceforward molested for any of his legal acts?"

Drink Evil in Mysore.

A feature of the finance of the Mysore State, as revealed in the address of the Dewan to the Mysore Representative Assembly, is the ever-growing increase in the Excise revenue, which has now reached the alarming figure of Rs. 77,81,000. The State has certain drink laws and other paraphernalia to minimise the evil, but in vain. The fact is these half-measures never do. America tried them before going "dry" and found them futile. If the State is anxious to wean the people from this vice, it can do so only by adopting total prohibition and providing other innocent enjoyments and amusement for the public.

NON-COOPERATION.

ITS JUSTIFICATION.

(Contributed.)

What is Non-Cooperation? It is the voice of the spirit of man crying against the limitations of petty facts and dwarfish probabilities, against a material, limited and an over-literal interpretation of history. It is the word of God spoken against a blind faith in mere reason. The man of reason looking sagacious, says: "These ideas which Mr. Gandhi preaches can never be put in practice, because they have never been put in practice before in history! Revolution sets back evolution. What is wanted is sound commonsense! The preacher of Non-Cooperation laughs at this, as the magician laughs at the lawyer or the cobbler (the lawyer and the man of reason are intellectual cobblers), and says: "History is necessarily a partial expression of the capacity of man, since it is only a record of his past. Man is here on earth not to follow history like a degenerate, but to make it like a healthy human being. History, in other words, is not a rigid circle, but an ever-expanding one. The great and solemn duty of the future is to refute the past every now and then. Was it Cavour, the man of commonsense, who created modern Italy, an Italy which dreams and aspires nobly? Of course not! It was Mazzini, the man of impossible visions that did so. It is the largeness of aim, the spacious nobility of motive that matters in all new movements. Mr. Gandhi might possess commonsense like any other person. Only, he sees the depths to which a man can be degraded when he allows himself to be dominated by commonsense only. He knows that from commonsense no great event has ever come forth. These hundreds of luminous worlds that we see above us in the expanse of the sky—the sun, the moon and the stars,—were they, I ask, born from commonsense? Is it from commonsense and the blind following of reason and the past, that poetry, music, and the other fine arts were born? Does anyone know of any great religion that ever issued from commonsense? Were Buddha, Christ and Muhammad, mere bondsmen of commonsense, thought, reason or history? No creator, in fact, is a slave of any of them. He sees and seizes the forces that are working around him, and out of them creates a new force. And Mr. Gandhi, I think, is something of a creator. He possesses the ardent fire and fury of one. He is no anarchist. He does not love destruction for the mere ecstasy of destroying. He sees the abject, intellectual and moral slavery of the Indians of to-day, and so, he tries to raise them above it. He does not preach "Non-Cooperation" with the British Government in India, merely because it is a foreign Government. He does so, simply because it is not fair and just in its dealings with Indians at present. He sees that it has succeeded in spreading ideas which are destructive of the national self-respect of Indians. He therefore comes forth from his ashram, and preaches doctrines like "Back to the past" and "Rely on yourselves morally, intellectually and industrially." Some of my readers will exclaim on reading these lines, "We agree with Mr. Gandhi in all this,—but up to a certain point only. He goes too far!" Well, I who am no follower of Mr. Gandhi, say unto such ones "If the weakness of your legs does not allow you to keep pace with Mr. Gandhi, who forces you to do so?" The eyes of men do not see the same thing. The vision of the prophet or of the great statesmen is not the vision of the merchant. Superficially, in little, material ways, this Non-Cooperation movement might fail. But really, it will and it must succeed. Before its life in its present body and under its present name expires, I doubt not that many and many an Indian will have grown an inch taller, morally and spiritually. This moral and spiritual growth, it is worth emphasizing, is the only thing that will unite us, Indians, and create an adamantine Indian nation. So long as we remain near-sighted and rationally argumentative, we shall remain mesquin, undergrown, underfed. We laugh at our old stories of gods, giants and other supernatural beings to-day, because we are puny in everything. But the heroic age, the age of the Puranic heroes or the age when jinas visited men might come back again. Perhaps Mr. Gandhi is doing something to make the advent of that age possible. Who knows?

"A CRYING SHAME"

To the Editor of "The Chronicle."

Sir,—I am so much in sympathy with the movement that Mr. Chothia has taken up, that I am sending you herewith Rs. 100 towards the Fund, and I trust that this little share of mine will help to turn these Cads and Cowards into Gentlemen and Sportsmen.—Yours, etc.

SATISFACTORY STRIKE SITUATION.

DIFFERENCES NARROWED DOWN.

BOTH SIDES ABATE DEMANDS.

LEADERS ACCEPT TERMS.

MINERS' ATTITUDE STILL UNKNOWN.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, Oct. 26.
Recd. 9-30 a.m. Oct. 28.

It is understood that the differences between miners and the Government as a result of the discussions, have been considerably narrowed down and that the former have waived their claim for unconditional advance, while the Government is prepared to give the increase of two shillings upon a satisfactory output arrangement being made. Thus both the sides have somewhat abated their demands.

It is proposed that the wage advance should be granted subject to review at an early date in the light of the ascertained output and cost of living, the owners to provide every facility for increasing output, including new plant where wanted, pit committees to be established representing the owners and the miners to ensure output and finally new and permanent machinery to be created to regulate the wages in accordance with the coal revenue and cost of living.

It is stated that the miners' leaders have accepted these terms and promised to convey them to a full meeting of the Executive but expressed doubt as to whether the miners would accept anything short of an unconditional advance.

The letters were addressed to the Third International Bureau, Moscow. It is understood that the accused is a Scandinavian or a Finn. He was remanded.

It is officially announced that the Government have informed the German Government that they do not intend to exercise their rights, whereby under the Peace Treaty, the property of German nationals in England can be seized in the event of voluntary default by Germany. This applies to German property in the United Kingdom or under the United Kingdom's control, whether the bank balances the goods in British bottoms or, the goods sent to England for sale.

WHY NO GERMAN PROPERTY IS TO BE SEIZED.

UNCERTAINTY IN GERMAN MIND SHOULD BE REMOVED.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

Recd 1-35 p.m. Oct. 28.

The British Government's decision not to exercise its right to seize German property is due to the desire of the Government that uncertainty on the part of individul Germans as regards their property in England should be removed and that the resulting injury to British commercial and shipping interests should be obviated. The effect of the clouse, as it stood, was merely to prevent the German shippers owning to the fear of possible seizure from placing their goods in British ships with the result that such trade was diverted to other shipping.

BOMBAY STRIKES.

NO IMPROVEMENT.

STREET LIGHTING NOT RESUMED.

RUMOUR OF TRAMWAYMEN'S SURRENDER BASELESS.

There was no change in the strike situation yesterday.

TRAM STRIKE

In the morning the atmosphere was thick with the rumour that the Tramway strikers had surrendered unconditionally and that they would resume duty to-day. Enquiries amongst the men showed that they were then as firm as before. Of course they are ever ready to return to work at any hour, if their demands are satisfactorily considered. This rumour seems to have originated in the Company's offices when Mr Baptista's frank and candid statement made in his letters appearing in yesterday's "Chronicle," have been misunderstood as a hint to the strikers to climb down.

Tram-Service yesterday was as irregular and unsatisfactory as before. Manual workers of the Company's depots, are now driving cars and issuing tickets. Cars are running through only three routes.

The other day the Company notified that if the strikers did not return to work by yesterday they would be considered as dismissed and also asking them to return the Company's uniforms, in default of which they (company) would take legal steps. But the men seem to have treated the notice with contempt as none of them turned up to make over their clothes.

TRAMWAY UNIONS BULLETIN

NO. XVII

The Tramway strike is not over. No such good luck for the Tram Company Rumours to the contrary are floated by interested parties. The men are prepared for a grim struggle. They are firm and united. Their spirit and morale are excellent.

POSTAL STRIKE

The situation of the Postal and Telegraph strike is also remaining unchanged. The authorities probably with a view to starve the strikers to submission, are still indifferent towards their demands.

GAS STRIKE

The Gas strike is also continuing like the other strikes without any change in the situation. Mr. Clayton, the Municipal Commissioner, has not been able to engage "two hundred men in the course of the day," and so the street lights were not lit, last night too.

THE DERELICT

TO THE EDITOR OF "THE CHRONICLE."

Sir,—A large iron receptacle which was probably used for filling in sand or dust, for the use of tram rails, has now, being worn out, been neglected and is lying on the narrow footpath in the middle of the Falkland Bridge. Even before the beginning of the gas strike, it was a nuisance to pedestrians who had perforce to use the narrow footpath (about 6 feet in breadth). In these days of "gas gloom" it is a positive danger to the life and limbs of pedestrians. It is lying there for months together and apparently, it being nobody's business will lie there till, perhaps, the great "inevitable" scheme, which our benign "Ma-Bap" out of their great parental love are going to present their Bombay children, is enforced when the poor thing, along with the bridge itself will be blown up sky high. Will this hint be enough to clear the thing to Sewri or some other place for its last repose?—Yours, etc.

K.

"UNPROFESSIONAL."

TO THE EDITOR OF "THE CHRONICLE."

Sir,—I regret the unprofessional remark of "The Times of India." There is no doubt the "ill-balanced young man" who "lost his temper" was meant for my friend Mr. Chaman Lal. "The Times of India" evidently did not know that my friend was lying ill at Matheran at the time, so can have had nothing to do with your editorial concerning the Pathan attack on myself. I should like to say that Mr. Chaman Lal, though young in years, is old in wisdom and as for balance of judgment in the present instance, I would back him against any writer in "The Times of India."—Yours, etc.

JOSEPH BAPTISTA.

GRIEVANCES OF POSTMEN.

AN OPEN LETTER

The following open letter has been addressed to H. N. Heseltine, Esquire, C.I.E., President, Postal Committee, Simla:—

Sir,—When I had the honour of appearing before you as a witness I had no idea that the decision of your committee would be so damaging to the Postal employees of Bombay. I was further assured by your charming manners that our case would receive the fullest consideration from a Committee presided over by such a beau-ideal of a president. But the decision has disillusioned me and I find that instead of receiving even the consideration that was our due, we Bombay employees have been most shabbily treated. It is very difficult to say what this was due to, but it is obvious that the absence of a gentleman acquainted with Bombay conditions on the Committee largely contributed to the deplorable neglect of employees, the hardest hit in the present economic crisis. In the memoranda submitted by witnesses on the Bombay side every attempt was made to bring home to the Committee the unparalleled stress to which an employee in Bombay is subjected, but it seems that all this was created as mere bluff or exaggeration. But then there were independent sources from which your Committee could have verified the Bombay statements and if this had been done you would have found that the statements were not only true to the last letter but actually fell short of rtality that is to say the hardships were understated as the poor Bombay people could not boast a Macaulay who could do full justice in point of description. They however did their best, according to their own lights and there was absolutely no reason to disbelieve their bona fides, which could have if necessary been further corroborated by the independent sources mentioned above amongst whom may be found persons whose probity and impartiality can hardly be questioned. One such is Mr. Natrajan whose moderation and sanity of judgment have never been doubted even by his worst opponents and I would respectfully urge upon you to read and digest what he has said and written about the Bombay living. If his credentials do not appeal take your own men. For instance the 'Times of India' which is now crying murder, arson and pistols, but which in its issue of 9th April 1919 in writing upon a different subject unwittingly let the confession that the prices of everything had gone up 3 to 4 hundred p. c. If that is so, in spite of journalistic somersaults the journal, the [mis] leading paper of Asia will have to admit if it can put 2 and 2 together that the scale fixed at the time of the British occupation of India should now be at least doubled and the balance still required according to its own deposition to make good the deficit in percentage be made good by means of specific allowances for specific areas. That the cost of living in the specific area of Bombay is several times higher than the cost of living in Calcutta the next most expensive place in India has been admitted even by the Hon'ble Mr. Clarke to a representative of the A. P. I. at the time of the strike of Calcutta postmen. Nobody can ever accuse these two sources as being extra emotional and their testimony, although they never meant it to be so utilised, must be turned to some account by any impartial tribunal such as your Committee professed to be. One more sentence to amplify the evidence of these gentlemen and the Bombay tale will be amply illustrated even without the assistance of Kinder Garten. Without going into housewife's details and taking the lowest computatiion which takes coat barest of necessities and not luxuries a rupee and a half at present depreciated sterling, do not suffice for one person per day, while as regards rent a room of the size of the one in which your Committee was sitting, or better still of the size of a standard whole mailvan cannot be had for less than Rs. 15 evenin the worst slums of Bombay. These two items must at least be tackled with if other obligations to which a human being is heir to,such as social, spiritual educational, sartorial, medicinal "et hoc genus omne," can have no place in the calculations of a Government which from its postal employees, having no other perquisites expect intelligent, hard, sincere, honest and faultless work the usefulness and necessity of which can be adequately gauged when it remembered that the Post Office is the pivot of social fabric, the soul of commerce and "raison-detre" of a good Government let alone all other obligations if you tackle these two items in case of Bombay what do you come to? You, Sir were an Accountant General and whatever hard things were said about the species of Accountant Generals by Sir Alibaba and by the Telegraph Association which accepted your presidentship under strong protest. I believe you can put 2 plus 2 together. But instead of resorting to this simple mathematical process in case of Bombay men, you have put the equation somethihg like this:

2 plus 1-8 plus 1-8 minus ½ plus ½ minus ½

I am had at figures, so I do not attempt to labour the equation any further. What I want to bring to your notice is that according to your torturous calculations some employees notably those of the Foreign Mail Division will actually be getting less than what they got before your Committee sat. I am assured that the deficit will be made good by a personal allowance. If that is so, why did the mountain labour so long to bring forth the mouse of a personal allowance. Instead of going to Tipperary by the short straight cut through Ireland why do we go all the way round America and the Cape of Good Hope. And unless you expect these men to be hunger strikers The "Times of India" detests strikes in any other from. So do I. But I detest a hunger strike as well as nomads or Mormons, you can hardly, get them make both ends meet.

KHALSA COLLEGE PROFESSORS' ULTIMATUM

WITHDRAWAL OF GOVERNMENT CONTROL DEMANDED.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

LAHORE, Oct. 27.

The Professors of the Khalsa College, Amritsar, have addressed a letter to His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor, through the Principal, in course of which they say that: "if the announcement of complete withdrawal of Government control of the college is not by the 5th November, 1920, we will be unable to work under the present management. It is with the greatest regret that w chave indicated a particular date, but we do so because we wish to leave no room for being misunderstood."

They suggest the formation of a provincial committee to take over control of the college for the present and draft new constitution.

PROTEST AGAINST NON-COOPERATION

About 350 students of the Islamia College Lahore, have signed a protest against Non-cooperation in colleges which has been sent to Mian Faiz Husain, Secretary of the college. The principal had closed the college for ten days and sent letters to all the studen's' parents. Students were addressed by Mr. Martin, principal, on Tuesday morning.

A largely attended public meeting of the citizens of Lahore was held this evening outside Delhi Gate, when a resolution was passed protesting against the sentence passed on Maulvi Zafar Ali Khan and expressing sympathy with him in his suffering.

The hartal, which was observed to-day on account of the sentence passed on Maulvi Zafar Ali Khan, was not complete as most of the shops inside the city were open and business was going on as usual. There was complete closure of shops at Anarkali Bazar and commercial buildings.

A PARSI NON-CO OPERATIONIST

WITHDRAWS FROM COUNCIL.

Mr. Manchersa Lavangia, who was till now standing for a seat in the Council, criticising the Congress constitution and formation has now finally withdrawn his candidature at a public meeting held at Khanwa on the 21st instant. He says that however a man's argument may be right, it is the bounden duty of every true patriot to submit to the will, of the majority of his country-men. He feels that the subject matter of cow-protection can very well be safeguarded by abstaining from going to the councils and thereby cementing the great Hindu and Moslem unity.

His word to the Parsi Community:—If the Parsi community desires to express its gratitude to the Motherland of India which gave them shelter in their time of difficulty when it emigrated, let it not miss this opportunity to return the debt by adopting the policy of neutrality even if the Parsis do not believe in non-co-operation. Let every Parsi candidate resign his seat from the Council declaring his neutrality in order to wipe out a dark spot on its name in history.

INDIAN MERCHANTS.

WILL THEY ADOPT NON-COOPERATION

In accordance with the two requisitions given below, a special general meeting of the members of the Indian Merchant's' Chamber and Bureau will be held on Saturday, the 6th November 1920, at 3-20 p.m. (B.T.) at the Blavatsky Lodge, 72, Apollo Street, Fort, opposite the Bombay Merchants' Bank Ltd. The resolution given below will also be brought in the same meeting.

REQUISITION I.

The Government of India, having on the one hand published the Reforms Scheme, have on the other adopted an improper unjust, autocratic and ruinous policy for some time past in matters concerning Currency, Exchange, Reverse Councils, Export of hides and skins, and Control of rice; have not listened to our Chamber's requests, suggestions, protests; and moreover have adopted non-co-operation by rejecting the appeals and protests of the whole of India regarding the above injustices. Looking to all these facts, there seems no hope of protecting the economic and commercial rights of our country by going to the new Councils and therefore it is no use co-operating with the Government by going to the Councils. Moreover, we are very much surprised and disappointed at seeing the injustice, that is meted out to Indians in British Colonies, the sufferings of our brethren in the Punjab tragedy, and the breach of promises given to our Islam brethren. Looking to all these circumstances, this meeting is of opinion that the members of this Chamber should avoid going to the Councils and voting for the same and only by doing so, the Chamber can maintain its prestige and self-respect.

RESOLUTION II.

In case the above resolution is passed, the following resolution will be put before the same meeting:—

"Mr. J. K. Mehta, the Secretary of the Chamber, who has been appointed by the Government as a Returning Officer for the Council Elections, should not act as such and this Chamber resolves that papers relating to Council elections should not be sent to any candidates and that no such papers should be forwarded to the Government."

RESOLUTION III.

This Chamber is an institution to protect the country's interests in general and the interests of the Indian Merchants in particular. Consequently it is a national body. Therefore in accordance with the resolution passed by the Indian National Congress by a majority, this Chamber should postpone to exercise its right of representation to the Councils until a resolution to the contrary is passed by the Congress."

PRESSURE ON TITLE HOLDERS.

TO RESIGN THEIR TITLES.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

MADRAS, Oct. 26.

The Local Government have issued a press communique stating that Government exposed in a press communique of 31st August some of the discreditable attempts which were being made to induce Mahomedan titleholders to resign their titles. Since then further pressure has been brought to bear on Maulvi Shah Zahid Hussain Sahib and he has been made to sign typed letters in English confirming his renunciation of the title. A Fatwa has also been published in his name, although in endorsement. (in his own hand-writing) of one copy he has denied all concern in it. Since however he has to all appearances, yielded to pressure his badge and sanad conferring on him the title of Shams-ul-ul-ama cannot be returned to him and his stipend will cease. Other title holders have shown themselves possessed of more courage and steadfastness. Most. if not all of them, have been recipients of threatening letters and other means of underhand pressure have no doubt also been applied, but no further resignations have been received.

NON-COOPERATION.

BENGAL LEADERS' ACTIVITIES

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

CALCUTTA, Oct. 27.

Messrs. Bepin Chandra Pal, Nisith Sen, Barrister and Srish Chandra Chatterjee, Dacca, pleader, arrived at Barisal yesterday for the Congress propaganda work and addressed a meeting. They laid great emphasis on the present economic policy of the Government and the Mesopotamian war which they considered to be responsible for acute distress of the people. They declared that Swaraj was the only remedy for this and the Punjab and the Khilafat wrongs. Swadeshi, economic and political boycott were only weapons for attaining it. Mr. Pal and the party are now touring in the Barisal district

SWAMI SHRADDANAND.

AGAINST BOYCOTT OF COUNCILS.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

PATNA, Oct. 26.

Interviewed by a "Searchlight" representative, Swami Shraddhanand, who was at Dinapore en route for Burma, declared himself in favour of Non-Cooperation but against boycott of Councils.

Regarding the Esher report, he said, "there is one idea prevading the whole report. The British Army is to be made stronger. This is a very unfortunate step, which the Government will have to take if it agreed with the Esher Committee's report. Indian people were already suspicious of the Government and this will add fresh fuel to the fire which is burning in the country. If there are still statesmen left within the British Dominion, the Government will think thrice before it takes action under the Esher Committee's report."

Regarding Lord Sinha's appointment he said:—"I do not agree with the opinion of Mr. Bepin Chandra Pal and other Bengalee gentlemen who are in a way howling against Lord Sinha's appointment. I think the Behar people should give him a good chance to justify himself, but Lord Sinha's appointment means nothing in the way of giving any new right to the people of India."

BOYCOTT OF TRAM CARS IN RANGOON.

REDUCTION OF FARES DEMANDED.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

RANGOON, Oct. 27.

With a view to bring about a reduction in tram fares by the Coy. to rates prevailing before October, boycott of tram cars was begun yesterday by a large section of passengers. The situation has not improved to-day There was some stone and bottle throwing at tram cars. One of conductors had his head cut by a stone and had to be removed to the hospital. There were a few cars running to-day and they contained very few passengers and those Europeans only. A large number of Burmans arrived from the districts to-day on occasion of the Pagoda Festival and they were warned by the Rangoon residen's not to use tram cars until the company reduced fares. The public are awaiting anxiously an announcement from the Company as to what action will be taken in the matter. It is generally considered that fares charged here are considerably higher than those in Bombay and Calcutta.

BOMBAY STRIKES.

The importance of work perhaps never weighed with you in the adjudication of of these scales as otherwise you would never have given them scales which will be contemptuously rejected by a second class Post Office which in comparison in respect of either importance or volume of work would stand in relation of a mole hill to a mountain. In addition their is for these people, the hardest travelling duty in the world which a second class post master eating and sleeping peacefully would never dream f and which duty discounts a l. from the natural span of their life. These considerations alone prompted Sir Stewart Wilson to declare that the Foreign Mail Division was the hardest worked and the most important unit of the Indian Post Office and it was always his aim to formulate the best cadre for these men. The work of these men is of international importance and from any point of view is more complicated, more intelligent, more technical thau the prosaicly technical work of the signaller. But there is a world of difference between the general scale of the latter and the scale doled out to the former. May I ask you Sir, why this differ. ence unless it be the difference between Anglo-India and India. Bombay people deserved better at your hands and amongst them the Foreign Mail Division which deserved most. But it has fared the worst because in its case, the miserable scales will be further halved by the travelling expenses of which no notice has been taken It is not known by what logic you withheld his allowance from the Foreign Mail Division, but it may interest you to know that even a Marwari pays his servant the travelling expenses when he sends him on his errands. That is how we Bombay people stand at present moment. Some people who threw you and your committee on the horns on which they were so long riddled tell us that your decision is a doomsday decision I don't believe it to be so, hence this letter and if it should at least partially convince you of the injustice done to us and should you yet try to rectify that injustice, it will have served the purpose for which it is written.

With kindest regards,

I remain, etc.

The loco men's grievances have already been wired. MOVEMENPS OF TROOPS IN PRUSSIA.

TO HELP LITHUANIA?

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON Oct. 26.
Recd 1 35 p.m. Oct28.

It is evident from the Telegrams from the French and German capitals that the movements of troops going on in East Prussia have caused perturbation, though for different reason.

A Berlin telegram says that the Freiheit indicates that reactionary intrigues are on foot and says that 120,000 well armed White Guards have assembled under the command of an East Prussian estate owner, Captain Bracdes, in connection with the supposed Monarchist movement. A Government communique refers to the armed men crossing to Lithuania and utters a warning against the repetition of the Yon Der Goltz Baltic adventure.

The Minister of Defence says that no regulars are concerned.

On the ither hand a Paris message says that the movements of the Germans troops as reported by the Inter-Allied Commission have aroused suspicion that they are made for the purpose of giving support to the Lithuanians against the Poles.

PRINCE PAUL OF GREECE.

THE LATE KING ALEXANDER'S LAST DAYS.

(REUTER'S SPECIAL SERVICE.)

LONDON, Oct. 26.
Recd. 1-35 p.m., Oct. 28.

Prince Paul of Greece is nearly nineteen. He came of age according to Greek custom at eighteen. He is described as a studious, quiet and rather stout boy. He was often seen strolling in the streets of Athens in 1917 with a German tutor. His ambition was to enter the Greek Navy.

During King Alexander's fatel illness the doors of the palace were opened wide to his morganatic wife who was deeply attached to His Majesty and she nursed him constantly to the end.

During his brief reign King Alexander after his earlier neglect, socially and diplomatically, rapidly won affections of those around him and gained and retained the affection and esteem of his people but owing to his exaggerated policy of self-effacement he exercised little influence on the affairs of the country.

EAST AFRICAN FEROL.

DANGER OF SEGREGATION.

MR. ANDREWS' WARNING.

(From our own Correspondent.)

HYDERABAD (Sind), Oct. 23

Mr. C. F. Andrews spoke on national education on the 20th, but before commencing his lecture he made a statement concerning the position of Indians in British East Africa which had suddenly become most critical. East Africa had immediately gazetted Lord Milner's pronouncement, legalising the enforcement of segregation. The Governor had begun by directly attacking the Hon. Mr. Abdul Rasul Alladina Visram's property in Mombassa. Mr. Andrews said that Mr. Alladina Visram was his own very dear personal friend. He knew intimately his ideas about the British which were altogether friendly. Mr. Alladina Visram and his father belonged to the older generation who had done everything in their power to show the warmth of their affection for the British Government. As the same Mr. Alladina Visram was a devoted son of India and one of the most patriotic Indians the speaker had ever known. Yet such a warm admirer of the British had been subjected to this flagrantly gross injustice, and compelled to submit to this new edict from Lord Milner for segregation and to forfeit rights of sale with regard to his own property in the Mombassa 'sland. The result had been that Mr. Alladina Visram had given up all his government titles as a member of the Legislative Council and various committees and had determined to resist to the very end this arbitrary usurpation of power. The issue in East Africa had now once and for all to be clearly and definitely faced. Were the Indians in that part of the British Empire willing to submit to permanent inferiority or not? Were they willing to submit to the treatment which the Jews received in the Middle Ages when they were confined by acts of the medieval governments in Europe to the Ghetto. Mr. Andrews stated that he had lived in such a Ghetto in Pretoria and nothing could obliterate from his mind that experience. The whole system was inhuman under the very thinnest pretence of sanitation. It was really based upon the honest fanitical white race religion.

The untouchability which had been known in the past and was still, alas, too well known in India had been transferred in all its worst features bodily by the white race to Indians in Africa. On trains in rickshaws, on steamers, in houses, in restaurants and in residential quarters Indians however sanitary in their habits and spotlessly clean in their attire, were becoming more and more untouchable, to give one flagrant example. In certain lavatory arrangements on board the s. s. Clement Hill on Lake Victoria Nyanza, first class Indian passengers were forbidden to use the first class W. C. at all and no special W. C. was provided for them. They were obliged to go to the other end of the ship and use a lavatory filthily kept which was labelled "For non-Europeans" and had to be used by all on board the ship who did not possess a skin which was white. The truth was simply this, that segregation, if once admitted by law as discriminating against the Indians would drive the Indians down deeper and deeper into acknowledged racial inferiority. Mr. Andrews explained the fact that in this matter he was not speaking from hearsay or from theory or from mere book knowledge. He was now speaking from what his own eyes had seen a hundred times over in many different places. What he had experienced had also the inevitable lesson of all history behind it. No segregated race had ever been able to rise. Segregation had always meant degradation.

NATIONAL EDUCATION.

In regard to national education, Mr Andrews said that the very soul of all true education was freedom and independence. The present education in Government schools had beneath it a substratum of fear and servility, which made the true relationship between the teacher and the taught impossible. The teacher in counters everyday matters was not able to speak out his whole mind. This spirit of caution had fear and suppression of the truth vitiated the Indian character. "Once set indian education free from the shackles which had bound it, and other shackles would fall off as surely and as certainly as day followed night.."

Mr. Andrews was of the opinion that the present condition of educational bondage would not be altered by the fact that education is to be a transferred subject. The evils of the present system which had been imposed mainly by the British Rule and the British Administration on British lines and according to British educational ideas had gone too deep for anything but a radical change. The way to gain Indian freedom and independence by Ahimsa and by love and not by force was by immediately taking the education of Indian children into our own hands and fashioning it according to our own ideals.

JALLIANWALLA.

200 "CASUALTIES."

HOW THEY WERE EXPLAINED AWAY.

Colonel Yate on July 28, asked the Secretary of State for India if he will publish the communications by cable that passed between himself and the Government of India, and a statement of the changes that were consequently made in the drafts of the dispatch from the Government of India; and his reply thereto, on the Report of Lord Hunter's Committee.

Mr. Montagu: I have already said, in answer to a question on July 14, that I do not propose to publish this correspondence.

Colonel Yate asked the Secretary of State for India whether the telegram sent by the Government of the Punjab to the Government of India on April 14, 1919, reporting that about 200 had been killed at Amritsar was transmitted to the Secretary of State; and whether he will state on what date the existence of this telegram and of the series oi daily communications sent by the Government of the Punjab, throughout the period of the rebellion was made known to parliament and the public.

Mr. Montagu: The hon. and gallant Member will recollect that public communiques on the disturbances in India were issued almost daily for over a fortnight from April 14, 1919. These were based on telegrams from the Government of India, which, as regards events in the Punjab, were, as was obvious, based on telegrams from the Punjab Government. The particular telegram of April 14 from the Punjab Government to the Government of India was not transmitted textually to the India office, but a summary of it was telegraphed.

I will read out the telegrams from India on this incident in the order in which I received them. The first to be received was dated April 17, and received in London the same day. One paragraph in it ran:

"Amritsar:—Details show that 50 sepoys were faced with unlawful assembly of 5,000. Effect of firing salutary. Casualties reported were deaths. Shops reopening."

This was given to the Press on the same date without the words "Casualties reported were deaths," as at that time no report of casualties had been received.

Late at night on the 17th there arrived from the Government of India a long telegram; dated the 15th, containing reports from various places and including the following sentences:

"At Amritsar, proclamation forbidding ublic meetings defied on 13th; mob had to be fired upon, with 200 casualties."

The whole of this telegram was issued to the Press in a parapharsed form and published on the 19th. As regards the latter part of the question, the full text of the telegram sent by the Punjab Government to the Government of India was received at the India office for the first time this year among the confidential reports laid before the Hunter Committee.

Colonel Wedgwood: When did the right hon. gentleman first realise that the two hundred casualties meant two hundred killed?

Mr. Montagu: The detailed facts with the full casualties were given by me in answer to the hon. and gallant gentleman himself on May 28.

Sir J. D. Rees asked the Secretary of State for India whether he is aware that Kundaulal, of Guzerat, aged 10, whose photograph is published in the Report of the Congress Commission on the Amritsar riots, with the legend subscribed that he was sentenced to transportation for life for waging war against the King, was never so sentenced; and, if so, will he make that statement to the House, which, like the British public, may believe that such allegations may contain some substratum of truth?

Mr. Montagu: The answer to both parts of the question is in the affirmative.

Mr. Gwynne asked the Secretary of State for India whether the High Courts in the Punjab sit through the months of May, June and July; and, if so, why an inquiry into tne disturbances in April, 1919, could not be set up until the end of October, owing to climatic conditions.

Mr. Montagu: The answer to the first part is in the affirmative. As regards the last part, I would refer the hon. Member to the reply I gave him on July 7, in which I mentioned climatic conditions as one of a number of difficulties which had to be faced in constituting the Committee. For the other reasons then stated it would have been quite impossible to constitute the Committee in time to begin is work of any of the three months referred to. The High Court Vacation is, I understand, taken during August and September.

A Madras, message dated October, 26th states that the Educational Association of the Southern India at a meeting under the presidency of Sir Abdur Rahim passed a resolution requesting the Trustees of the Aligarh College not to refuse the Government grant and University charter and asked them not to yield. (A. P.)

"A HINDU AGITATOR"!

SIR J. D. REES AND MR. GANDHI.

"EFFECTIVE ACTION" SUGGESTED.

Sir J. D. Rees asked the Secretary of State for India on July 28, whether he has information to the effect that His Highness the Nizam has forbidden the promotion of any Khilafat agitation in Hyderabad and that the Hon. Ramanuja Achariyar, a prominent extremist leader in Madras, has publicly dissociated himself from the agitation, which is promoted from outside the Mahomedan community by a Hindu agitator, Mr. Gandhi, and has demanded that the people should give the Government, in the interests of law and order, all possible support.

Mr Montagu: The answer to the first part of the question is in the affirmative. As regards the second part, I have seen in the newspapers a report to the effect stated, but I have no official information.

Mr. Palmer: Can the right hon. gentleman say whether, owing to the recent reports in reference to Mr. Gandhi, any effective action is to be taken against this incendiary gentieman?

Mr. Montagu: The Seditions Meetings Act has been proelaimed in various places to deal with the situation. I have not heard yet of any further action; but I am taking steps to ensure that I shall receive reports from the Goverament of India as to the action taken, and I will inform the hon. gentleman.

Sir J. D. Rees: Is not His Hinghness the Nizam, who has disapproved of this agitation in India, the most exalted Mahomedan in India?

Mr. Montagu: I think the position of His Exacted Highness the Nizam is well known to the House.

The services of the Corps were greatly appreciated by the authorities of the Congress Committee. On both the above occasions the Corps had the honour and privilege of having an entire charge of the pandals under the able Command of the Coptain Bhimji J. Mackenji.

A batch of 8 volunteers was declared successful in the First Aid Examination held under the auspices of the Radiant Club. The committee showed its earnest desire that First Aid would receive the wholehearted support of our Corps.

The honorary services of Messrs. P. G. Wagle, S. P. Kabadi, and Bhimji J. Mackenji were accepted with the greatest regreat and it was resolved to give him a moment in appreciation of his honorary services.

Thanks were given to different National Volunteers Corps for rendering help to the volunteers of the Corps from time to time and also to the "Bombay Chronicle," "Sanj Vartaman," Praja Mitra," "Hindustan" and Sandesh" for publishing official notifications of the Corps free of charge. The honoary service rendered to the Corps by Dr. G. S. Wazkar, the Surgeon in charge of the Radiant Club, Ambulance Division was highly appreciated and thanked the Radiant Club Ambulance Division in general and Dr. Wazkar in particular.

The report was adopted unanimously.

RULES AND REGULATIONS

The rules and regulations drafted by the Sub. Committee were adopted by the General Body of the Corps with two important changes in the original draft rules. First was the change in name of the Corps and second was the admission of students over 18 wears as volunteers of the "Swarajya Sabha Volunteer Corps." The above two changes were carried by an overwhelming majority.

After finishing the above work the following Officers and Office-Bearers were elected Captain, V. A. Desai, Vice-Captain R. B. Vaidya, 1st Lieutenant B. C. Balse, 2nd Lieutenant, K. B. Sanzgiri, 1st Sergeant, H. A. Hassan, 2nd Sergeant, H. B. Kothare, Mr. S. G. Banker was elected President of the Directing Board and Messrs. Kamalnath B. Sanzgri and Amratlal H. Dalal, as Joint Hon. Secretaries, and Chotalal M. Choksy as the Hon. Treasurer of the Corps.

A Shahjahanpur message says:—In the Dehra express collision two goods vans and the engine of the express were smashed. Slight injuries to about forty passengers are reported. The local Seva Semeti despatched an ambulance brigade of 50 under Dr. Sen in the motor lorry to render first aid. (A. P.)

"NO WORK FOR AN ENGLISHMAN."

"CORPS OF BANDITS."

WHY 137 ENGLISHMEN RESIGNED FROM BLACK AND TANS.

The Dublin correspondent of the "Daily News" writing on Reprisals raid on Balbriggan on Thursday Sept. 30, said:—

Mr. Aifred Flint, an ex-service man who joined the Royal Irish Constabulary recently in London in answer to an advertisement, and who was stationed in Gormanston during his brief connection with the Black and Tan force, passed through Dublin on Sept, 30, on his way home to London.

He stated that 137 of the Black and Tans have tendered their resignations, and that foure them who had sent in their resignations, including himself, were dismissed yesterday.

"They asked me," said Mr. Flint, "the reasons for my resignation, and I told them that when I joined I thought I was going into police force. When they asked me, 'What did you go into?' I said straight, 'It looks as if it was into a eorps of bandies."

RAID ON BALBRIGGAN.

Describing the raid on Balbriggan, he said:

"We were ordered out of our beds to go to Balbriggan for a reprisals raid. When we reached the place we pulled up at the first public-house, and the men got to work firing some shots, smashing the windows and doors with rifle butts."

Mr. Flint said they got hold of the liquor and then set fire to the place. What happened afterwards was he said beyond description. It was worse than anything he had ever seen on even read about.

"That," he added, "was no work for an Englishman, and that is why I have come out of it. Englishmen are misled, and I want them to be told the facts.

"We left Balbriggan and got back to camp about three o'clock in the morning. There were many sore hearts amongst us, but there were plenty of bottles full of liquor to cure them or make us worse."

"FALSE PRETENCES."

It would appear from Mr. Flint's further statements that there was a good deal of questioning among the Englishmen in the camp, who alleged that they had been brought from London by false pretences.

This he emphasised when some doubt on the subject was expressed. "I tell you." he declared, "we did not come to Ireland for this sort of work, and there is proof that they knew what we thought about it in camp."

"What proof?" he was asked.

"Why the fact that I and the others were not asked to do the job at Trim. That was done by reserve constables of the R. I. C., three lorry-loads of them, somewhere about 50 men."

VICEROY AND SILCHAR.

NO ADDRESS FROM MUNICIPAL AND LOCAL BOARDS.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

SILCHAR, Oct. 27.

An emergent meeting of the Silchar Municipal Board was held to-day to reconsider the decision arrived at in a previous meeting for presenting an address to the Viceroy to which the public took strong objection and a number of rate payers sent in a written protest. After discussion, it was decided not to present an address, the chairman pointing out that the Viceroy will be put in an awkward position if the address was not unanimously voted for.

The Silchar Local Board is also not presenting any address.

KHERI MURDER APPEAL.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

LUCKNOW, Oct. 26.

Hearing of the Kheri Murder appeal was concluded to-day at the Judicial Commissioner's Court. Mr. N. N. Sinha, Barrister, appeared for the third accused only and said that Mashuq Ali had not been proved to have taken part in the actual assault on Mr. Willoughby. Pandit Jagat Narain said Bashir's age was only seventeen and that perhaps might be pleaded for mitigation of the sentence. As regards Mashuq Ali he submitted that whether he actually used a sword or not he was certainly at or near the spot and was, therefore equally guilty. Orders were reserved.

A Madras, message Oct. 27th states that Chief Presidency Magistrate has issued orders that from 4th November, cases under section 352 and 504 of I. P. C. should be posted before the bench courts for trial. (A. P.)

A PUBLIC MEETING.

WILL BE HELD AT,

Madhav Baug, At 4-30 p. m. (S.T.)

Under the presidentship of the HON'BLE MR. MANMOHANDAS RAMJI J.P., to pass the following resolution in connection with the inconveniences and hardships that the public have to undergo on account of the postal and telegraphic strike.

RESOLUTION I.—Nomination of the Chairman.

TO BE PROPOSED BY:— SETH DEVIDAS MADHAVJI THAKERSEY, J.P.

TO BE SECONDED BY:— SETH VITHALDAS DAMODER GOVINDJI.

RESOLUTION II.—This public meeting of the citizens and Merchants of Bombay is of emphatic opinion that the public in General and the merchants in particular have to undergo great hardships and even pecuniary loss on account of the postal and telegraphic strike and further it feels that if this sort of things be allowed to continue the situation would be still serious and grave and so it resolves to send a message to His Excellency the Viceroy kindly to immediately start negotiations with the Director General of Post and Telegraphs in such a way that the present grave situation would soon come to an end.

This meeting is afraid of a tremendous and huge loss in the mercantile business of the city of Bombay, if the proper steps will not be taken in time, in this matter, as the temporary arrangements afforded by the postal authorities are proved to be the least satisfactory to the public.

This meeting authorities its President to forward this resolution telegraphically to His Excellency the Viceroy.

KATHIAWAD NEWS.

PRINCELY DOG'S MARRIAGE.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.)

The movement to hold the political conference of the province is progressing by leaps and bounds and the murmurring, of those claimants of the intelligence of the province are drooping and dying thanks to the untiring energy and tactful handling of the situation by Mr. Mansukhlal Mehta. He won the sympathy of Zalawad, captured Bhawnagar, went deep in the territories of the Gaskwar at Amreli, and is now pursuading the Porbandar and Junagadh to fly to his colours; while Rajkot, Gondal and Jetpur are already in front bearing his standard. Cries of constitutions he has answered by proposing to call a provisional meeting of the representatives of the whole province, when, his much maligned limitations will be dealt with. Even the Bombay branch of the Kathiawad Sabha has approved of the idea of the Conference; and now it remains for Mr. Shukhla and his companions to throw off their pettiness of prestige and abide by the unanimous verdict of the whole of their province. Should Mr. Shukla be reminded of the noble example of Mr .C. R. Das of Calcutta who, when proposed as the President of the ensuing Congress, declared, that he wished to work as the humble camp follower of the Congress rather than aspirn for it's presidency. Peaks and mountains are not the proper places for public workers. They must descend to plains and valeys. To be the humblest of the humble, the lowest of the low, should be the motto of service, much more so in Kathiawad, when so many forces, so many influences and so many circumstances are playing for their own ends.

JUNAGADH FUN.

One is bound to make allowances for a nabab's fancies; and thus if His Highness the Nawab Saheb of Junagadh forgets his famous firman about agriculturists in the heat of his high humour or leaves off their cause for the sake of poorer race, one should not exhaust the vails of one's wrath as some have had the audacity to do. For my part, I grudge not the good luck of the Nabab's dear little dogs; and why should I, in these days of equal nigns of all creatures of Almighty? So I write this not either in the mood of envy or petulance. I assure you of my pure honest motives towards that faithful species of God's creation, verily. I am happy to hear of that singular stroke of good fortune of that lucky pair, whose marriage was celebrated in Junagadh with all eclat, bands playing, Lancers moving, and Infantry firing to celebrate the happy event. Who else but the generous Nawab saheb could have decked that pair of dogs with all choice ornaments, seated them in the carriage and pair, and put them for the time being on par with the best envied beings of Junagadh. By the way, this sort of freak of His Highness, should never be taken as the outcome of the "Liberal" education and "culture" imparted to him by that versatile genious of Oxford University, nor should the credit be offered to the influence he wields round that august personage. Such freaks are the precious heritage of Indian nabob's; Mr. Bloden can't have any thing to do with it.

JAMNAGAR'S GEMS.

I wish not to be very hard with Jamnagar; and yet the splendour of its gems is so bewitching that I cannot resist the temptation of making them the property of public. And they are already the property of the public; because my source is the Jamnagar Durbari Gazette dated 1st October 1920, page 1-3. That worthy ruler barrister of Nadiad, to whom the Government had been a bit unkind in matter of some trust scandal, has developed tendencies and powers that can outrid any outshining autocrats of this side. What matters to him if the Government once went to the length of forfeiting his sanad to practice in Kathiawar, if he has got the unrestrained and unlimited sanad of having all things in his own choice ways, from that autocrat of autocrats, the famous Jamsaheb of Nawanagar? The gentleman in question publishes two circulars under his signature dated 30th Sept. 1920; one of which says that if a holder of a Barkhali that is alienated lands died and if his heirs do not communicate the matter directly to he Huzur office within a month; they would forfeit all their rights to the deceased's property, even if they may have communicated the matter to any subordinae office. Thus if some ignorant or less cautious landholder, has the tenecrity or the ignorance of approaching that August revenue member directly and contents him self by informing the local officers he pays the penalty by losing all his lands and properties. The other circular professes to show mercy to the land holders, and declares that if the Salami that is a cess that is being levied in March the latest, is not paid in full within the month of May, their lands will be confiscated straight away, to the State, and that the Vahivatdar should in sight earnest proceed to the work of confiscation, or else he would be responsible for his negligence. Any same man would at once concede to the rights of the State to attach some property of the landholder for the purpose of paying itself out of it, but Jamnagar can make laws and put his circulars to confiscate the whole of the estate for good, for the sake of paltry sums of salami. Are these not the gems of Jamnagar administration?

LONG LIVE THE INDIAN STATES'

Is the war-cry of Mr. Mansukhlal Mehta, re-echoed in his new famous weekly letters in "Hindustan" which he has now offered to the public collectively in book form, naming the same as "Problems of Indian States." Mr. Mansukhlal is enchanted by them these relics of old Aryan institutions and his patriotism rises to a high water mark when he looks at these princes, he says, they remind him of Ram and Krishna Pratap and Shivaji. All thtat is a commendable commodity in Mr. Mansukhlal but one is painfully conscious as well of their positive neglect and negative negligence of their sins both of commission and omission, of their total and complete disavowal of the principles of State and of the eventual growth to a terrible degree of the individualistic notoions of self-sufficiency and self-complacency. Mr. Mansukhlal is stronger than even the strongest amongst the princes, in his belief of non-intervention, believes in the development of strength in the subjects themselves, to check the princes in the mal-administration of their States, and stands for the constructive programme of work on these lines. Principles are one thing; perhaps they are right sound logically. There do seem to be maturity of thought about them. But look to the rigid realities of the situation: hard stern facts of unchallengable truth; Have these princes imbibed he same Aryan national spirit, are they prepared to follow the old Aryan tenets of their duties enjoined by eminent Aryan rishis like Mana and others? Is not this all a one-sided talk? It is not mere passimism to say that they would be more out to kill the spirit of their people, rather than to nourish it, would be more intent upon exhausting their resources rather than replenishing them. On such uncertain sympathy and good intentions of a single individual, who given very little hopes about him, would depend the success or otherwise of Mr. Mansukhlal's scheme. It is desperation that created Bolshevism, it is desperation that makes the people believe in the intervention, however unpatriotic it may be. Anyhow, Mr. Mansukhlal's book, gives a great quantity of food for thought. He has touched individual States, princes, Diwans, and even individual actions of all these persons and thus has toned to a great extent the public expression of the province. His are not the haphazard, off-hand ways expressing, they are the outcome of a sound thinking, calm deliberation, and of sharp reasoning. The book is worth the perusal of all students of Indian States problems.

WANA WAZIRS SITUATION.

TERMS OF SETTLEMENT.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

SIMLA, Oct. 26.

The following communique dated October 26th is issued:—The settlement with Wana Wazirs on account of their treacherous and hostile behaviour during and subsequent to operations against Afghanistan last year, is still outstanding and is now about to be taken in hand. We first occupied Wana in 1895, at the Wazir's own request and established an agency known as Wana (protected) area) which was administered by a Political Agent and garrisoned by a local force of militia which included a number of Wazirs and other trans-border Pathons in its ranks. During the Afghan operations in 1919, the behaviour of Wana Wazirs was as bad if not worse than that of the other Waziristan tribes. The Wazir element in militia in the Wana Fort proved disloyal and during the withdrawal of the remainder of the militia from Wana and Upper Gomal posts rose against us, attacked our posts, and parties of militia, and commenced raiding on a large scale in Derajat and Zhob, penetrating even as far as Fort Sandeman, where they burnt and plundered the large bazar. Since then, the attitude of the ribe has been consistently hostile. Their lashkars on more one occasion assisted Mahsuds to oppose our advance up Tank Zam and they have been responsible for several attacks on our troops and constabulary and for numerous raids in Derajat and Zhob, causing much loss and bloodshed among peaceful villagers. These include in past months ambushing of a party of constabulary near Drabard in the Dera Ismail Khan district and an abortive attempt to capture Drazunda Post in Sherani country and an attack on a party of local levies in Zhob by a lashkar some two hundred and fifty strong, which burnt down an unoccupied post at Mir Ali Khan on its return journey to Wana. Only a day or two ago a party of Wana Wazirs raided Kaur Bridge camp and caused a number of casualties.

TERMS OF SETTLEMENT.

It was not convenient to deal with Wana Wazirs simultaneously with Mahsuds and the tribe was, therefore, not given our terms of settlement till the 10th October, when these terms were announced to a representative Jirga at Manzaza. These terms include return of all Government arms and property in their possession, surrender of three hundred tribal rifles, and payment of a fine of Rs. 50,000 in advance and also clauses similar to those include in Mahsud terms relating to building of posts and roads, and location of troops in their country wherever and whichever Government may think fit to do so.

The tribes have been given a month to consider the terms and, if they decide to accept them the Jirga which comes in to notify their decision has been ordered to bring with it and surrender unconditionally, as an earnest of their intention to submit, a portion of fine and rifles demanded namely Rs. 20,000 and 300 Government and 200 tribal rifles.

RAID ON KAUR BRIDGE CAMP.

The following communique dated October 26th is issued:—On the night of 21st-22nd October the Kaur Bridge camp on Tank Jando a Road was broken into by a party of about 150 tribesmen believed to have been Wana Wazirs. The raiders made good their escape with a certain amount of stores and loot, leaving one dead behind. There were sixteen casualties among the garrison and a considerable number among followers and local labourers in the camp.

Full details of the raiders' casualties have not yet been received.

DYERISM OR BOLSHEVISM?

BAKU AND INDIA.

(Mr. Bernard Houghton writes in "India")

The Indian Government has established a bureau at a cost of £9,000 to counteract Bolshevism.—"Official Statement."

Very large numbers of Turks, Kurds, Persians, Arabs and Tartars are now receiving a regular Red Army education in the official college at Baku.—"H. N. Brailsford," "Daily Herald," September 21

In the North West, that quarter of ominous memories, has arisen a new menace for the Government of India. This time it is not a spectre of war that threatens—it is a spectre of ideas. Bolshevism, the bogey of the capitalist, looks towards India, and the Government quakes. Sir R. Craddock, who probably represents the normal bureaucratic mind, in his Durbar speech at Rangoon, spoke of "this destructive force which might even overwhelm civilisation in Burma." He urged Indians and Burmans to stand fast against this "gospel of hate," but though that, "with the cooperation and goodwill of all these evils would be entirely avoided."

From the lips of an Indian official the expression "gospel of the hate" sounds a little strange. What about the Rowlatt Act, what about the Punjab atrocities, and the support given by Anglo-Indians, official and non-official, to Dyer and O'Dwyer? If that does not amount to a gospel of hate, words have no meaning. But as a matter of fact it is not the Bolshevists who have preached such a gospel. They have sought peace by all means in their power. It is the Allies who have striven—successfully—to prolong and forment war, which is the soul of quintessence of hatred.

Apart from this preliminary point, why should Indians co-operate with officials against Bolshevist ideas? Has official rule been so benign and sympathetic that they will unite to continue it? Has the bureaucracy made India happy and contented? Has it so acted that Indians will rally to its side now as they rallied at the beginning of the war? Really these officials are too simple. They browbeat and bludgeon, they oppress and repress. Then when danger (to them) threatens, they turn to their victims and ask them to co-operate to ward off the peril. Indians will naturally ask what are these ideas, the mere mention of which has thrown the officials into a panic. They may not be concerned with the Bolshevist theory of society, but they can point to not a few facts which show that it is not so black as it is painted. Thus the Bolshevists have stood for open diplomacy: the Allies for secret diplomacy; the Bolshevists have granted full self-government to the seven States that broke away from Russia; England has refused it to Ireland, to India, to Mesopotamia, and tried to refuse it to Egypt; the Bolshevists have sought peace; the Allies have actively abetted war; the Bolshevists have kept faith; the Allies have broken faith with Germany, with Ireland, with Mesopotamia and Syria, and have ought to break faith with Egypt. Finally, Bolshevism has made a supreme effort to educate the children, whilst the Government of India has persistently and gravely neglected its duty to do so. With these facts before their eyes Indians may want to know a little more about Bolshevism before they join with the Simla Government in condemning it. Many things which that Government denounces are to them the very salt of life. May it not be that Bolshevism, closely seen, is not so great an evil as Dyerism?

According to Mr. H. N. Brailsford, the enthusiasm which the recent conference at Baku undoubtedly evoked was due not so much to Communist ideas as to hatred of Western Imperialism. That is doubtless correct. It is the domination and exploitation of countries like India, Persia and Mesopotamia in the interests of Western Capitalists that is the well-spiring of the Asiatic movement. It is the ideas common to Bolshevists and all lovers of freedom and justice—the right of the individual to a fair opportunity to show what is in him and to pursu happiness, the right of nations to govern themselves, the hatred of militarism and that secret diplomacy which treats the peoples as cattle to be bought or sold—it is these ideas which now ferment in Asia and gather strength with each month that passes. In vain would the Simla Government seek to stay them by spending £9,000 a year more on secret service. Has not Mr. Winston Churchill spent two hundred millions of British money in the effort to crush Bolshevism? Has he not thereby only strengthened and intensified it? Since the Armistice, had the Simla Government been the agent of Moscow, it could not have more effectively prepared the soil of India for Bolshevist ideas. Popular rule, and popular rule alone, can meet Bolshevism on the gate. And there is only one way to popular rule, and that lies in a radical change in the Government of India. Ere it be too late will Britain nerve itself to make that change?
